JAR EL ASFOUR

About Jar el Asfour

Our guesthouse, Jar el Asfour, is situated on a hill in the village of Kfar Chleymane, within the Batroun region.

The 250-year old traditional house has recently been rehabilitated by experts in heritage renovation. It is now modernly functional while having preserved its traditional character.

About Jar el Asfour

It offers a panoramic view of northwest Lebanon, stretching from the Mediterranean sea to the Cedars.

Jar el Asfour is situated next to the historic Sayyidat Naya Chapel, an area rich in archaeological treasures. Nearby, you'll find remnants ranging from prehistoric wineries to frescoes dating back to the Byzantine period.

About Jar el Asfour

Jar el Asfour takes its name from the calm and relaxing atmosphere that envelops it. For most of the day, the only sounds you'll hear are birds chirping and leaves rustling in the trees.

At Jar el Asfour, tranquillity is paramount. The calm and relaxing atmosphere allows you to unwind and rejuvenate, surrounded by nature's beauty.

About Jar el Asfour

To guarantee your privacy, we rent the house as a whole, with flexible pricing based on the number of rooms needed.

The house and its surrounding space are perfect for:

- Weekend getaways
- Countryside holidays
- Yoga and meditation retreats
- Birthdays and other celebrations
- Small wedding receptions (especially convenient as it faces the chapel)

A tour of the house

We welcome you to our charming 4-bedroom guesthouse.

The main area features a well-equipped kitchen, complemented by a spacious dining and living room with traditional Lebanese arches/qanater, and 5 spacious terraces.
